

RAZIONALE

During post graduate school of Medical Urology we learn how to resect the prostate, in recent years many technical and technological advances emerged. The introduction of lasers and new technologies in the management of benign prostatic hyperplasia changed. Our approach to the technology It's evolving and with that, it comes continuous demand for updates. To show all the innovations in this field, we believe it is important to organize the masterclass in a hybrid format: with a virtual and in-person audience.

During the 2 days of the event, several live surgeries and theoretical debates will be carried out, with the participation of national and international experts, with simultaneous translation to English, making it a high-level scientific event. Concurrently we will be able to get closer to these reference surgeons and finally start or improve our prostate enucleation programs safely.
